Haven't posted much about the war in Ukraine in a while. Pastor Alex has been going back with humanitarian aid for months now. Every week he shares what he is seeing and sharing what they have been doing in reaching souls for Christ. This month has really taken a toll on him, just last week he reported that 42 missiles hit his city of Mykolayiv in one day.

It became so dangerous in the area he was staying that he left his house and moved into a house on the outskirts of the city. (The owner and her little girl are staying with us). He made his way back into the city and witnessed so much more damage.... I'm not talking about the buildings, although that is great too, he saw children blown to bits, body parts scattered on the streets. He shared the pictures with us, but they are too gruesome for us to share.

He is feeling battle fatigue and on Thursday he made it back to Romania safely. Please pray for him as he takes some time to heal emotionally, physically, and even spiritually. This war is a battle that affects so many and in so many ways.

Thank you so much for your prayers and support!
